Arthur T. Gerald, Jr.

Born and raised in Boston, Massachusetts and the youngest of three children, Dean Arthur T. Gerald, Jr. grew up in a humble environment and was the benefactor of a family that taught him respect of person and the value of mankind.

A graduate of Boston English High School, he attended Lincoln University in Pennsylvania. He received his degree of Bachelor of Arts in Theology in 1970 from Berkshire Christian College, and the degree of Master of Theological Studies from Gordon-Conwell Theological Seminary in 1972.

Presently he is the Associate Dean for Academic Affairs and Special Learning Assistance Programs, as well as Director of Minority Affairs at Salem State College. In addition he oversees the Mentor Program, the Orientation Program and the Students with Disabilities Program. He has been a supportive and dedicated member of our campus community for over twenty years. His contributions and relentless efforts have been instrumental in improving the lives and education of those around him.

Dean Gerald is also the Associate Minister of Twelfth Baptist Church in Boston. He serves on various boards and is affiliated with several community organizations.

He is married to the former Henrietta L.F. Williams of Boston and they are the proud parents of two children, Arthur-Michael and Alana-Michelle.

Thomas Leary

Thomas Leary is a professor of Art at Salem State College where he has taught studio art courses in drawing, painting and printmaking for the last 27 years. He received his BA from the university of California, San Jose, and his MFA in painting at the California College of Arts and Crafts. Mr. Leary also studied advanced printmaking at the Institute of Fine Arts, Salzburg, Austria.

Professor Leary's work reflects his affinity for both art and nature. His views of specific natural environments are developed with equal concern for form and content, so that art expresses nature and is not an end in and of itself.

Many graduating seniors will take memories of his teaching methods and profound insight with them into the workforce. Tom Leary is an integral part of the art program here and is deeply respected both as an artist and as a professor.

William O. Thomson

This yearbook is dedicated to an individual who truly epitomizes all that makes Salem State College the great institution that it is. This years recipient graduated from Salem State in 1960 and is a proud classmate of President Nancy D. Harrington. During his senior year he served as President of the Student body, worked 50 hours a week, was already a father of three, and at commencement he graduated with honors. The Clipper proudly dedicates this yearbook to Professor William O. Thomson.

Professor Thomson returned to Salem in 1963 and has been a professor, historian, and friend ever since. Entering his 32nd year as a professor at SSC Professor Thomson has published 15 books and produced six videos. His work has been aired nationally and has brought recognition to the college from as far away as California and Texas.

When Professor Thomson is asked what his biggest challenge has been his quick reply is simply, "I wish I could have done more for the college". This is the attitude that has endeared Professor Thomson to the thousands of students that have sat in his classrooms these many years.

Professor Thomson has been and continues to be very student-friendly. He truly enjoys playing a part in the lives of the students he's met. He had this to say about his students, "I love these kids, they are super, they are what its all about. I love hearing their success stories."

Professor Thomson, we love telling you our successes and more importantly we thank you for all you've done for the college and for us.

PROFESSORS PROTEST

Outraged by what they see as a failure on the part of the bureaucracy to hammer out a fair contract for the college faculty, SSC professors demonstrated outside the Ellison Campus Center on Sept. 28, 1994. We were happy to discover, upon our return to School in September 1995 that the contract was ratified on September 27, 1995.

THE AIDS QUILT

In 1985, the AIDS quilt was conceived by a man named Cleve Jones. The AIDS quilt was developed as a memorial for people who have died of AIDS. The quilt is the largest example of a community art project in the world.

Salem State had the honor of being a part of this community, when 64 panels of the quilt graced the walls of Veterans' Hall on Nov. 29, 1994, during AIDS Awareness Week.

Iraqi leader Saddam Hussein orders his troops to the border of oil-rich Kuwait. The U.S. sends 350 warplanes to the area to support the Kuwaiti forces. By October 11, Hussein orders the withdrawal of most of his forces.

Russian President Boris Yeltsin calls out his poorly trained military to subdue a rebellion in Chechnya, a southern republic the size of Connecticut. Critics accuse Yeltsin of resorting to totalitarian methods of the old communist Soviet regime to keep the shaky Russian Federation unified.

Europe's worst flood in this century kills at least 30 people across Europe. Inland floods caused by melting Alpine snow and relentless rains hit Belgium, France, Germany, and the Netherlands, whose famous dike system begins to crumble late in January 1995 in the face of rampaging rivers. Dutch authorities evacuate 250,000 people from the lowlands.

Women's Cross Country - This performer wrote a remarkable story as a first-year runner. She entered a road race last summer on a lark not realizing she would be accepting this award less than a year later. This two-year softball starter and first team All-MASCAC designated hitter in 1994, she learned how to run hard-ball cross country. She placed 15th at the MASCAC Championships leading all Salem runners with a time of 21:36 for 5 kilometers. One can only dream about her potential running success had she picked up the sport as a freshman. This year's women's cross country MVP is senior Dianne Regan from Stoneham.

Men's Cross Country - This three-year performer placed 5th overall at the MASCAC Championships with a time of 27:57 to earn All-MASCAC honors. His 5th place finish helped the Vikings captured the program's first MASCAC cross country title since the conference began in 1971. His eighth place showing at the 1993 MASCAC championships helped SSC to a runner-up finish. He ran the entire 1994 season without missing a meet while displaying an array of tactics and strategies that resulted in consistently high finishes. This year's men's cross country MVP is junior James Pawlki from Beverly.

Field Hockey - This four-year performer was the Lady Vikings' top scorer her junior and senior seasons. A two-time All-MASCAC selection at her right inner-forward position, she registered six goals and four assists for her team which recorded the program's best record since 1989. She served as one of the team's three captains. She also drove in a dozen runs as a member of the softball team this spring. This year's field hockey MVP is senior Jill Spadorcia from Danvers.

Women's Tennis - This first-year starter recorded one of the top seasons in recent memory by a Salem State women's tennis player. Playing at No. 1 singles and No. 1 doubles, she posted a solid 18-3 overall record in helping lead SSC to a 10-3 record. In every match SSC played she contributed a win in either the singles or doubles matches she participated in. She won both the singles and doubles matches in different 10 contests. Also an accomplished field hockey goalie, she was a senior co-captain for the Lady sticksters in 1993. This year's women's tennis MVP is Lori Casinghino from Suffield, CT.

Volleyball - This two-year performer led her team to back-to-back MASCAC Championships while earning All-MASCAC Player of the Year honors twice. A two-time team MVP and All-MASCAC selection, she is also a two-time All-MASCAC Academic team member. A member of the National Accounting Honor Society, she was chosen SSC's MVP at the Bowdoin College and UMaine Farmington Invitational Tournaments last fall. This year's volleyball MVP is senior Yvonne Rep from Oostzan, Holland.

Golf - This four-year performer is a three-time All-American and a two-time Team MVP. He is a four-time All-New England golfer who led the Vikings to the NCAA Division 3 District 1 Shootout crown and the Massachusetts Intercollegiate Championship this spring. He also captured low medalist honors at the ECAC Qualifier Tournament last fall. A team co captain, he will be shooting to become a four-time All-American when he and his teammates travel to Terre Haute, Indiana next week for the NCAA Division 3 Championships. This year's golf MVP is Jason Ruschioni from Leominster.

Women's Soccer - A three-year performer at back she was a first team All-MASCAC selection and earned All-New England honors as well last fall. She served as a tri-captain during the 1994 season and will be a co-captain next fall. From her defender position she registered an amazing four goals and picked up assists on four scores. She recorded a goal and added an assist in the same game against Fitchburg State. She has been a starter on two MASCAC Championship teams, and NCAA tournament team and an ECAC Tournament team. This year's women's soccer MVP is junior Stephanie Miano from Burlington.

Men's Soccer - This two-year performer was a first team All-MASCAC selection at defender last fall. From his right defense position he earned MVP honors with his consistent, strong play. He posted three goals and an assist in 1994 while proving himself as SSC's top defender and team player. This year's men's soccer MVP is Lars Boshius from Ostersund, Sweden.

Sailing - This three-year performer has been an instrumental figure in the sailing program not only on the seas but on the land. She has helped organize the team through recruiting students on and off the campus, promoting the team and running home regattas. She has also organized and implemented a pair of successful alumni regattas. On the water, she has been a key player, training the new student sailors as well as competing in regattas herself. She is a member of the Salem State Community Outreach Program. This year's sailing MVP is Ann Marshall from Newport, RI.

Despite posting their fifth straight losing season the SSC sticksters posted two more wins than they did in 1994. Second year head coach Heidi Brennan directed her squad to five consecutive victories after losing six of its first seven. Four of SSC's 10 losses were by a goal while three other defeats were by a two-goal margin.

INDIVIDUAL HONORS: Senior Laury Kovalchek and junior Jill Spadorcia named first team All-MAS-CAC.

The Viking sailors experienced a rebuilding year. However, SSC's number one highlight of the fall season was winning the Dixie Cup Trophy when it finished first out of nine entries.

SSC, ranked 12th in New England which includes all three divisions, is the only Massachusetts State College with a sailing program.

Sailing Master: J. Karalekas

Ice Hockey - This two-year performer was the Vikings top scorer last year en route to being named a Timpani first team All-America selection. This crafty forward who possesses blinding speed also was MASCAC and ECAC East Co-Player of the Year after tallying 65 points in just 27 games. He was also chosen to the New England Hockey Writers All Star team twice. This year's ice hockey MVP is senior Rob Concannon from Worcester.

Men's Basketball - This three-year performer at the helm led the Vikings to their fifth straight MASCAC Championship and back to the NCAA Tournament after a one-year absence. A deadly, long-range shooter and team co-captain, he poured in a school record 10 three-pointers and totalled 40 points in a 112-83 win over Worcester State February 16. SSC's top scorer, he led all MASCAC free throw shooters hitting over 83 percent from the line. He also topped the MASCAC in three-pointers made drilling 73 from international waters for a .462 percentage. This year's men's basketball MVP is junior Tommy Doyle from Salem.

Women's Basketball - This two-year performer at the helm led the Lady Vikings to their second straight MASCAC Championship and a fourth place finish at the NCAA Championships. A tri-captain, who was named first team All-MASCAC and the most outstanding player at the Northeast/East Sectional Tournament, she placed first in the MASCSAC and sixth among the nation's assist leaders averaging 6.8 per game. She was also named a third team all-star by the New Basketball Coaches Association. This year's women's basketball MVP is junior Ivette Correa from Burlington, MA.

Women's Swimming - This second-year performer excelled in the distance freestyle events including the 200, 500, 1000 and 1650. A two-time Team MVP, she especially dominated the 500 and 1650 freestyle events during the 1994-95 season. She set school records in the 200, 500, 1000 and 1650 freestyle events and was the high point scorer among her teammates. For the second straight year she represented SSC at the New England Championships. This year's women's swimming MVP is sophomore Joy Kehoe from Saugus.

Men's Swimming - This two-year performer went undefeated in the 50 yard sprint freestyle event this past winter. The senior team captain led the Vikings to their best dual meet record (7-4) since the program attained varsity status in 1990. SSC also enjoyed its highest finish ever at the ECAC Championships - 18th place - with this performer leading the way. He will graduate with a handful of school records including top times in the 100, 200 and 500 meter freestyle events. He also anchored the school record breaking 200, 400 freestyle and medley relay teams. He is a member of the Salem State Community Outreach Program. This year's men's swimming MVP is senior Steve Cinella from Melrose.

The Lady Vikings won the MASCAC regular season title for the 10th time and MASCAC postseason tournament championship for the fifth time since its inception in 1990. SSC recorded its first NCAA tournament win since 1988 when it defeated a scrappy Westfield squad in the first round. The Lady Vikings disposed of Clark prior to defeating first time opponents New York University and Genseso State for the Northeast/East Sectional title. SSC posted 22-or-more wins for the 12th time and 24-or-more victories for the eighth time since Shac's arrival.

INDIVIDUAL HONORS: 27-year old junior Ivette Correa was named Most Outstanding Player of the sectional tournament as well as first team All-MASCAC and a NEWBA second team all-star. Junior Lauren Dottin named first team All-MASCAC and a third team NEWBA All-Star. Freshman Dara Rosenberg named to sectional all-tournament team and second team All-MASCAC.

The Vikings, who had just one senior on the roster, began the season by winning their first four games including a pair to take the Eastern Connecticut State Invitational. SSC, after losing to Wheaton College for the third straight season, defeated arch nemesis Colby College for the first time since the 1979-80 season to capture the SSC Christmas Tournament. Other big victories included overtime wins over Bridge-water and North Adams.

No. 6 seed SSC registered its first NCAA tournament win since 1992 by upsetting No. 3 seed Tufts at Bentley in the first round. The Vikings' bubble burst in the second round when No. 2 seed and eventual Final Four participant Trinity escaped in overtime.

The men's program posted its finest season since becoming a varsity sport in 1989-90. The men strung together six consecutive wins after starting the season 1-2. They also produced the program's highest finish ever at the New England Championships, placing 18th as a team. Freshman Victor Sofronov became the first male swimmer in school history to win a medal at the New England's when he finished sixth in the 50 meter backstroke. A total of 18 school records were broken.

The women did not win as many meets as the men, however a half dozen swimmers represented SSC at the New England Championships. The women's victories came against Division 2 opponents UMass Lowell and Bentley.

New England Division 3 Championships 18th place at Bowdoin College, Brunswick, Maine

Men's Tennis - This four-year performer has played among the top three single positions and the No. 1 doubles position since his freshman year. He served as team captain during his junior and senior seasons. This spring he had a winning record against his singles and doubles competition while leading SSC to a victorious record and a strong showing at the New England Championships. This year's men's tennis MVP is James Hillwerth from Reading.

Women's Track & Field - This four-year performer was a three-time All-New England hurdler. She earned All-New England honors by capturing the 400 meter hurdles in 1992 and 1993 and was also a member of SSC's 1993 All-New England 1600 meter relay team. A four-time performer for the women's soccer team at defender, she earned All-MASCAC honors by capturing the 400 meter hurdles in 1992 and 1993. She also earned All-ECAC honors at the 1994 championships and was on the All-MASCAC Academic team for 1993-94. This year's women's track and field MVP is senior Laura Daniels from Chester, VT.

Men's Track & Field - This four-year performer began the 1995 spring outdoor season after a superior indoor season in which he was ranked as high as number two among New England Division 3 individuals. In his first meet this spring the three-time Team MVP won the 1500 meters, captured the 800 meters and nearly topped the field in taking first in the 5000 meters. A three-time All-MASCAC selection and 1994 MASCAC cross country champion, he won the 5000 meters at the MASCAC Championships after winning the 10,000 meters his sophomore and junior years. he has qualified for the New England Championships three straight years. This year's men's track and field MVP is senior John Bowser from Saugus, MA.

Softball - This four-year performer was the Lady Vikings top player in 1995 leading her team in batting average (.491) and runs batted in (18). A member of the 1993 ECAC Championship team, she was a 1994 ECAC All-star selection. She was also a three-time All-MASCAC pick as an outfielder and served as a team tri-captain in her final year. This year's softball MVP is senior Karen Obey from Lynn.

Baseball - This two-year performer has done it all for the Viking diamond nine. One of the top players in the Massachusetts State College Athletic Conference he batted .355 with a team-high 14 doubles and 36 runs batted in. When he wasn't terrorizing opponents with his hot bat he was shutting them down from the mound. The All-MASCAC selection was the Vikings' workhorse logging a team-high 57 innings enroute to a team-high five victories. This year's baseball MVP is junior Jeff Lambert from Marlboro.

 Row 2: K. Insana, C. Taylor, G. LaBelle, L. Fauci, Coach Don Ovan.

SSC disposed of the two MASCAC opponents it faced losing just one match in the 18 played against Bridgewater and Worcester. The Vikings also were competitive at the New England Championships hosted by UConn. Senior Jim Willwerth selected Team MVP.

Longley retires from Salem State tennis post

Salem, MA - Legendary tennis coach Grant Longley, a native of Franklin and a resident of Swampscott, has announced his retirement from the position he held for a quarter of a century at Salem State College.

Longley, who will remain as an associate professor in the Sports, Fitness & Leisure Studies Department, was on a leave of absence from his coaching position during the 1994-95 academic year. Beverly's Scott Donovan, who was a four-year performer for Longley from 1989-92, assistant coach for a pair of seasons and served as interim head coach of both the men's and women's programs at Salem this past year, has been named Longley's successor announced athletic director John Galaris.

"It's been a sincere pleasure to work with the student athletes at Salem State. I really mean that," said Longley, who compiled 307 victories against 160 defeats for a solid .657 overall career winning percentage. "There's no question that Salem State is a special place to coach. My players were hard workers who dedicated themselves to the program and their studies. The most difficult part for me leaving coaching will be no longer having the special relationship a player and a coach can develop and share. There's nothing like it."

Nicknamed "The General" by one of his players at the start of his first season (1970) at Salem, Longley wasted little time in building Salem State into the powerhouse of the Massachusetts State College Athletic Conference (MASCAC). The Vikings captured 12 MASCAC championships along the way under Longley's direction.

"We took a great deal of pride in being the best tennis program among the MASCAC schools," said Longley, who starred in Springfield College in the early 1960's. In total, Longley coached the men's program for 25 years and the women's program for three.

"Grant and his program were major contributors to the success the Salem State athletic program has enjoyed over the past 25 years," said John Galaris. "I commend him for his dedication, loyalty and leadership. His contributions were significant. Many of his players regarded him as a father figure."

Longley coached Salem State tennis to the 1973 National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics (NAIA) District 32 title prior to directing the Vikings to back-to-back NCAA tournament appearances in 1976 and 1977. He coached one year of freshman tennis and wrestling at Albany (NY) State prior to his arrival in Salem. Longley also served as head coach of men's soccer at Salem State from 1971 to 1975.

A member of the NCAA Division 3 Championship Seeding Committee in 1977 and 1978, Longley has served on the New England Intercollegiate Tennis Association (NEITA) Seeding Committee the past four years.

Donovan, who posted a combined record of 17-8-1 while heading up the men's and women's programs in 1994-95, is honored to be following in his former coaches' legendary footsteps.

"It's an honor to be given the opportunity to coach tennis at Salem State," said Donovan, who served as a two-time team captain and was chosen Team MVP his senior year. "I will do my best to uphold the great athletic tradition at Salem State. The student athletes welfare is what it's all about."

WMWM-FM, Salem State College's radio station, is licensed by the Federal Communications Commission as a non-commercial, educational radio station. WMWM is a student-operated organization providing the college community and North Shore listeners with progressive and alternative radio programming. WMWM broadcasts a variety of musical entertainment programs emphasizing New Music including Rock, Punk, Rhythm & Blues, Dance, Local Music and Jazz, and in addition offers its listeners campus, local and national news.

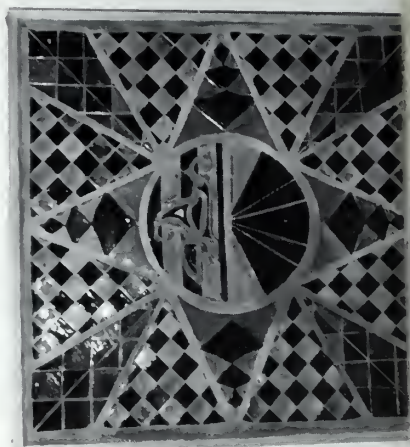

The Log, the independent voice of Salem State, is the only publication entirely written, edited and financed by students. Whether your interest in news, sports, or the arts, the Log is interested in you.

Students get on-the-job training and pre-professional experience in all the aspects of newspaper work.
