PROLOGUE

Someone, probably a philosopher of sorts, has said everything begins in dreams and ends in institutions. Neither dreams nor institutions are tangible. The search for a symbol becomes imperative. The theme of the times is growth, in particular, the growth of Salem State College as an institution and as an idea. The symbols are the inevitable ones: for the dreams, the men who had them; for the institution, what they made of dreams, buildings. The seed of a Normal School was planted in 1854 by the wise founders of a system of education that has grown into our expanding institution. Today we see the college that is the product of the past and the embryo of the future.

DEDICATION

In dedication, we thank you for enriching our desire for knowledge and our philosophy of life. You, Mr. Bedard, signify a new generation of students that has developed as Salem State College has expanded into an institution reflecting the quest for higher learning. Your superiority as a professor, a friend and a person, will ever be admired and remembered by the Class of 1967.

DEDICATION

To WILLIAM A. RICH is the 1967 CLIPPER dedicated. This man of the constant smile and the indefatigable willingness to be of assistance, will be long remembered for his very unique succession of roles. To the Class of 1967 he has been the earnest and exciting teacher, a counsellor and guide during our Student Teaching, and, as Director of Placement, the man who placed our feet upon the first rung of the ladder of professional advancement.

blessed is the man whose role it is to build. the placing of stone upon stone, idea upon idea, plan upon plan produces the tangible from which shall flow the intangible and the ever-lasting when the builder functions in the furtherance of education, he shoves back the black mantle of ignorance, fear, and poverty and allows in the pure air of enlightenment, understanding, and innovation. the future will not recall the specifics of dates of construction, blueprints, variations, or the painful choice of design or material; it will simply recall that, because the builder has done his work and well, opportunity came to those who feared the lack of a chance. such a builder is our own dr. frederick a. meier.
