2001 Clipper Yearbook Dedication

The Program Council of Salem State College is pleased to dedicate the 2001 Clipper Yearbook to the "First Lady of Salem State Theatre" - Charlotte Ettinger.

Professor Ettinger came to Salem State College on August 28, 1965. Fresh from her graduate assistant teaching at Emerson College, Ettinger was courted by Francis Callan, Head of the Speech Department, to join the faculty. Ettinger said, "Frank and I had a mutual acting and directing experience at Marblehead Little Theater. He saw my work and knew how much I believed in what I was studying and teaching." Once a position became available at the college, she took it, and the rest is a part of local educational history.

Charlotte's contributions to the Theatre and Speech Communication Department are innumerable. In the early days, she had a number of logistical obstacles to overcome. She felt that what she did best was to generate an idea and see it through, "I'm a planner." It was not an easy matter when Professor Ettinger - one of the first female chairs at the college - ran into numerous financial and political hurdles while attempting to bring the study and practice of Theatre Arts to Salem. When asked how she accomplished so much in the late 60's and 70's she replied, "I made it a point of doing first and asking if I could do it later." And it worked.

Under Ettinger's leadership, Salem State Theatre ascended into one of its fastest phases of growth with acquisitions of spaces, increasing faculty, and the establishment of a B.A. degree in theater. Ettinger brought Salem State Theatre to a new level of regional recognition in the 1976 production of A Midsummer Night's Dream which was selected as a regional finalist in the KC/ACTF National Festival.

It is very clear what a driving force Charlotte was to both the discipline and the Art of Theatre at Salem State College. Although she felt that her best "performance" was as a wife and mother, Charlotte Ettinger will always be remembered as Salem State College's "First Lady" of Theatre.

WOMEN'S LACROSSE

Capsule: The program, competing in just its second year at the NCAA Division 3 level, captured its first ever victory when SSC defeated Rhode Island College, 13-3, in Providence. Four matches were canceled because of inclement weather. SSC's 0-5 New England Women's Lacrosse Association record placed the Lady Vikings last in the six team northern division. However, second year head coach Amy Everitt remains optimistic and looks forward to the 2002 season.

Individual Honors: Sophomore Becky Budykiewicz selected Team MVP.

MEN'S LACROSSE

Capsule: The Vikings, under second year head coach Rick Anderson, qualified for postseason tournament play despite having a losing record. Playing in the Little East Conference for the first time, SSC placed fifth during the regular season. SSC was competitive in most matches, losing five by six goals or less. The program's five-year overall record is 11-60.

Individual Honors: Freshman Greg LeColst was selected Team MVP.

MEN'S SOCCER

Capsule: Despite losing seven regular season matches for the first time ever under 20-year head coach Nicholas Padovani the Vikings managed to place fourth in the MASCAC standings which secured the final spot for SSC for the league's inaugural postseason tournament. SSC lost, 2-1, at No. 1 seed Worcester State in the first round of the MASCAC playoffs. Padovani was not rehired after the season.

Individual Honors: Senior Herminio Furtado and junior O'Neil Gray were All-MASCAC first team selections. Junior Anibal Mazraani and sophomore Elias Oliveria were named to the All-MASCAC second team. O'Neil Gray also selected third team All-New England. Gray selected Team MVP.

WOMEN'S SOCCER

Capsule: After a fast 4-1 start the Lady Vikings struggled to finish the season with a .500 record. SSC failed to win a match from Sept. 13 to Oct. 14 going 0-6-2. The Lady Vikings were picked in the preseason MASCAC coaches poll to finish third, instead they placed fifth, missing the inaugural postseason league tournament. Sophomore forward Lisa Dellascio lead the team in scoring for the second straight year. The team highlight was opening the season by winning the Western New England Invitational.

Individual Honors: Lisa Dellascio, sophomore Michelle Caporale, sophomore

K.C. Sartwell and senior Maryann Quinn were selected to the All-MASCAC first team. Senior goalkeeper Lauren Trechok earned all-MASCAC second team honors Sartwell chosen Team MVP.

SOFTBALL

Capsule: The Lady Vikings, under 14th year head coach Kathy O'Leary, struggled all season long after beginning the season 2-7 in Florida during March break. A 3-11 MASCAC record prevented SSC from qualifying for the first ever MASCAC postseason tournament. SSC was shutout a single session school record seven times.

Individual Honors: Senior Jeanette Gordon selected second team All-MASCAC and Team MVP.

WOMEN'S SWIMMING

Capsule: The women's swimming program, under the direction of third year head coach Dan Warner, won one of the nine meets they it in. O'Keefe Center pool records were established in many events by performers who went on to compete at the New England Championships. The men's swimming program was suspended for the year due to lack of participants.

Individual Honors: Sophomore Kerry Strong selected Team MVP.

WOMEN'S TENNIS

Capsule: The Lady Vikings, under second year head coach Joe Dunn, struggled this season after posting a winning record (5-4) in 1999. The two highlights of the 2000 season were the victories against North Shore rival Endicott College and Eastern Nazarene College.

Individual Honors: Senior Danielle Ouellette selected Team MVP.

MEN'S TENNIS

Capsule: The Vikings, under second year head coach Greg LaBelle, captured three of their final five matches after losing five of their first six. Victories for SSC came against north shore neighbor Endicott College, 9-0; MASCAC rival Worcester State, 6-3; and Little East Conference opponents Southern Maine, 6-3, and UMass Boston, 5-2.

Individual Honors: Sophomore Dan Lentini selected Team MVP.

WOMEN'S OUTDOOR TRACK

Capsule: The Lady Vikings competed for the first time as an NCAA Division 3 program during the winter indoor track and field season. Many individuals qualified for the New England Championships.

Individual Honors: Jessica Horne and Mia Lewis earned All-Alliance honors. Home selected Team MVP.

MEN'S OUTDOOR TRACK

Capsule: The Vikings competed for the first time as an NCAA Division 3 program during the winter indoor track and field season. Many individuals qualified for the New England Championships.

Individual honors: Daniel Smith earned All-Alliance, All-New England and All-ECAC honors. Scott Conley earned All-Alliance and All-New England honors. Jeff Rockwood, Adam Bruno, Elias Guzman and Chris Lowe were recognized as All-Alliance performers. Smith and Rockwood selected Team co-MVPs. Smith also chosen SSC's Top Male Student Athlete.

VOLLEYBALL

Capsule: SSC, despite being seeded fourth for the MASCAC postseason volleyball championships, was unable to reach the semifinal round. Fourth place finishers for the MASCAC regular season, the Lady Vikings dropped two of three matches in the postseason tournament to finish third in Pool A and in a tie for sixth place overall. SSC's co-head coaches were Bette Bailey in her 33rd season and Andrew Viselli in his second.

Individual Honors: Sophomore Danielle Conroy named first team All-MASCAC. Conroy chosen Team MVP. Senior Janelle Carbone selected as SSC's top female student athlete.

GOLF

Capsule: The Vikings, under the guidance first year head coach Steve Tully who was hired just prior to the start of the season, returned to the ECAC championships after a one-year absence. SSC, despite finishing in a tie for last place at the ECACs, won three tournaments: the Worcester State, WPI and UMass Dartmouth invitationals.

The Vikings produced solid showings at the Middlebury, Skidmore, Williams and Western New England tournaments. SSC rebounded from its disappointing ECAC performance by placing tenth overall (and second to Babson among Division 3 entries) at the New England Championships.

Individual Honors: Junior Mike Kraft earned All-New England honors. Senior Mark Bono chosen Team MVP.

FIELD HOCKEY

Capsule: The Lady Vikings, selected in the preseason to finish fourth in the MASCAC and seventh in their inaugural year in the Little East Conference, placed fifth in the MASCAC and ninth in the LEC. SSC got off to a rough 2-7 start which included being shutout six times and outscored 23-2. The team roster did not include a senior. Sophomore Tammy Boyden led the team in scoring.

Individual Honors: Junior Irene Korisianos and sophomore Megan Smith were selected to the All-MASCAC first team. Sophomore Jessica Horne was chosen to the All-MASCAC second team. Smith chosen Team MVP.

WOMEN'S CROSS COUNTRY

Capsule: Due to a lack of members, the women's program did not place in five of the ten races the team participated in. SSC's best showing came at the Alliance Meet where SSC finished 10th out of 14 schools.

Individual Honors: Charity Lower and Marisa Petrillo earned All-MASCAC and All-Alliance honors. Petrillo selected Team MVP.

MEN'S CROSS COUNTRY

Capsule: It was an historic year for the men's cross country program. Under 2nd year head coach Stephen Czarnecki the men's program was represented by senior Dan Smith of Greenfield at the NCAA Division 3 championships held in Spokane, Washington. Smith, who finished 146th out of the field of 215 runners, became the first cross country performer (male or female) in the college's history to qualify for the national championship meet. Smith also defended his MASCAC individual title.

Individual Honors: Senior Dan Smith earned All-New England, All-MASCAC and All-Alliance honors. Smith selected SSC's Top Male Student Athlete and Team MVP.

MEN'S BASKETBALL

Capsule: SSC earned the program's 16th NCAA tournament appearance and 7th Massachusetts State College Athletic Conference regular season title. The Vikings also secured the program's ninth MASCAC postseason tournament crown. SSC fifth year head coach Brian Meehan recored his 100th college victory Dec. 7th. SSC was ranked among the top five teams in the region the whole year. The Vikings defeated Western NE in the first round of the NCAA tournament before bowing to No. 1 seed UMass Dartmouth in the second round.

Individual Honors: Senior forward Ed Bourgogne was chosen MASCAC player of the year and ECAC New England Div. 3 co-player of the year. He was also selected first team All-MASCAC and first team All-ECAC. Senior guard Mike Kmiec was named second team All-MASCAC and third team All-ECAC. Bourgogne and Kmiec played in the New England College Basketball Coaches Senior All-Star game. Bourgogne selected SSC Male President's Cup Award recipient and Team MVP.

WOMEN'S BASKETBALL

Capsule: The Lady Vikings made the program's 18th NCAA tournament appearance (a national record) after capturing the Massachusetts State College Athletic Conference regular season and postseason tournament titles. SSC registered its 17th MASCAC regular season championship and 11th league playoff crown. The Lady Vikings earned the No. 2 seed in the Northeast and a first round bye to the NCAA tournament. The Lady Vikings were defeated by Bowdoin in the second round, 72-65, in overtime. SSC head coach Tim Shea, in his 20th season, recorded his 450th win when the Lady Vikings defeated Suffolk Dec. 29.

Individual Honors: Senior guard Melissa Smock, who finished her career as the program's No. 2 all-time scorer with 1,574 points, was selected New England Women's Basketball Association (NEWBA) Division 3 player of the year. Smock who was also an All-NEWBA first team member, was named MASCAC co-player of the year and 1st team All-MASCAC and first team All-ECAC. Sophomore guard Kara Smolinsky was chosen first team All-MASCAC and an ECAC honorable mention all-star. Sophomore forward Edwina Ashe, who set a school record for most rebounds in a single game with 24 Feb. 1, was honored as a second team All-MASCAC selection. Smock selected SSC Female President's Cup Award recipient and Team MVP.

BASEBALL

Capsule: The Vikings, under 20th year head coach Ken Perrone, finished in a two-way tie for second place in MASCAC regular season play. They went 2-2 in the inaugural double elimination MASCAC playoffs. After losing to Mass. College in the opening round, SSC defeated Worcester and Mass. College prior to losing to Bridgewater in the title game.

Individual Honors: Senior Paul Higgins selected first team All-MASCAC. Junior Jonathan Pollard and sophomore Mike Cornacchini selected second team All-MASCAC. Senior Jim Tracey selected first team All-MASCAC and Team MVP.
