SALEM
STATE COLLEGE
1964

Foreword

TO THE CLASS OF 1964:

Much has been said concerning the physical changes at Salem State College. These changes have been numerous and far reaching, with an eye to the future. Many people, especially ourselves, are justly proud of this, but, more important than the new buildings are the changes education has brought about in us. We also look with clearer eyes to the future.

Who would have thought it possible that four years could pass so swiftly? Yet in this fleeting period, we have been prepared for a lifetime. We have the background and techniques for our profession. May we use them wisely.

With Commencement fast approaching, little time is left to recall with our classmates the studying, the good times, all the happenings that have been a part of our college career. With this in mind, we have edited the 1964 CLIPPER for you as a lasting record.

MESSAGE TO THE SENIORS
JUNE, 1964

In preparing to write this message to the class of 1964 I reviewed in my memory your four years at Salem. I remembered the many activities of your undergraduate days and rejoiced for you in your development as a class at Salem State College. It is inspiring to watch the development of individuals in the quest of learning.

I could not help being saddened by the national loss which will forever be an event of sad memory in your senior year -- the loss of Massachusetts' great son, President John F. Kennedy. The tragedy that took place in Dallas, Texas, November 22, 1963, struck Salem with unusual sadness. Many of the faculty of the College today recall the young Senator who moved with charm and grace among our students and faculty in the fall of 1955. He gave generously of his time, his wisdom, and his humor to the students of that year. The State College at Salem is truly a better place because of John F. Kennedy's visit with us.

The words with which our young President took office will be forever watchwords for young Americans embarking on a career in public life. "Let the word go forth from this time and place to friend and foe alike, that the torch has been passed to a new generation of Americans, born in this century, tempered by war, disciplined by a hard and bitter peace, proud of our ancient heritage."

Young men and women in the class of 1964 may well read a heroic lesson in the words of the fallen leader of all the free world. His wisdom, courage, moral fiber, and devotion to duty will stand for all time as a beacon to guide young people in facing a position of public trust. It is your Alma Mater's hope that your lessons in the liberal disciplines will give to you the inner strength to meet the challenge of a demanding society. May you always remember your Alma Mater as a beloved place, a source of learning, strength and good works.

In behalf of faculty and staff may I wish for you both success and joy in all you do.

Sincerely yours,

Frederick A Meier

PROJECT PROGREDI

*"The wise man looks into space, and does not regard the small as too little,
nor the great as too big;
for he knows that there is no limit to dimensions."*

September 9, 1960

A new decade was upon us, and with it came an urgency for strong minds to enter college with potentiality and ambition. Many volunteered, but only 450 were chosen as trainees at the S.S.C. Proving Grounds. The usual air of expectancy surrounded the Proving Grounds, as all was being made ready for the arrival of these stalwarts, but such was not to be on the date set, for hurricane warnings were up along the Eastern seaboard. At the time, it would seem to be just a passing event, yet how ironic as we look back in retrospect. As the winds of the hurricane blew in all its fury, so did the Class of 1964 stir within the Proving Grounds a storm of intelligence, spirit, and forward drive. With the subsiding of the storm, a new day dawned, and formal orientation procedures were begun.

A period of rigorous testing was soon to follow, whereby members of the selected crew met and mingled as a common unit striving to overcome the seemingly impenetrable forces of the superior sophomores. Had anyone ventured into our hallowed halls they would have witnessed, not classrooms and textbooks, but witches and bunnies carousing through the lounge. As a prelude to the tedious exercises which would be forthcoming in the four years to follow, Jim Casey demonstrated his masculine agility at the age-old sport of jumping rope.

ALL SYSTEMS GO—

The first officers of the crew elected from our ranks were:

Captain: Paul Phinney

Co-Captain: Joseph Wodzinski

Fuel Controller: Donald Orne

Statistician: Jeanne McCarthy

Time was allotted to alleviate the pressures of everyday routine, and our first successful social venture took place. Our monetary problems were put somewhat at ease, as the news of our astronomical profits reached our waiting ears. We were informed that our Gross National Product had increased by the magnificent sum of three cents.

The first council semi-formal ever to be attended by our crew reflected the true Christmas spirit of joy and peace. The snow-covered grounds outside the gymnasium seemed only to mirror the serenity of our own Lorraine Sybil as she represented our class in the Queen's Court.

Refreshed by our all too brief Christmas respite, we were soon besieged by that inevitable maelstrom known to many as the Mid-Year Exams and to some by the secret code, ATJR-FN; "Avoid the June Rush, Flunk Now."

Scientific theories were temporarily put aside and the feminine factor theory went into operation as the Annual W.A.A. Formal took place. All eligible males were cordially invited to attend this event. As was to be the case throughout our four years at the Proving Grounds, the Queen's Court was most capably represented by members of our class. This year's honors were held by two of our winsome lassies, Sandra Pecevich and Gail Fraser.

It was felt that a better understanding of Project Progredi as a whole would be achieved if our families were brought closer to the situation. Our portals were opened and a warm welcome extended to all parents to attend our Freshman Tea.

CONDITION GREEN AND HOLDING—Our first year of training had ended. Final exams proved to be the decisive factor in determining those who would continue in Project Progredi. Atomic, hydrogen, and Cobalt bombs were the farthest things from our minds as we concentrated only on how to "bomb" our tests!

Among our "First" accomplishments were the establishment of a class Executive Board and the Blazer Tradition.

First stage completed—advancing toward orbit.
Second Stage:

Our launching was successfully completed; the first stage had been broken away forever, and we eagerly surged ahead in the drive toward the unknown. The hunted became the hunter. The dark recesses of the conditioning chamber reverberated with the voices of our coordinators, Gail Fraser, Lorraine Sybil, Paul Phinney, and Fred Randall as they extended a sincere welcome to the freshmen.

ATTENTION: TRACKING STATIONS — Be on the alert for objects resembling chipmunks—yes, we said chipmunks. The call went out; there was no escaping from the “most exalted sophomores.” Air-raids were numerous but airplanes were replaced by the shrill voices of our classmates and the only flying to be seen by the naked eye was that of the freshmen books across the floors.

The indoctrination period of the future crew members had ended. As a symbol of the lasting friendships that had been made, the Initiation Banquet was held. Musical talent was brought to the surface by every member present as he sang his praise for the good sportsmanship shown by all. Such is part of the foundation of this glorious Proving Ground, our Alma Mater.

Word was received through communications that gala activities were in progress at the home base. Judy Forrest had been chosen as the first Homecoming Queen at the Proving Grounds.

TEMPUS FUGIT — and so it does. Before we realized it, another Council Semi-Formal was taking place. Judy Hamilton and Rosemary Doyle represented our class in a most regal manner.

The key words at the base were now Physical Fitness, and what better way to begin such a program than by a Twist Dance? By 2400, all muscles were aching, but one thing had been proved: only the fittest had survived the gyrations of this meteoric night.

In order to finance our information center, WGBH, a campus carnival was held. We were filled with awe and inspiration as we tenderly watched our superior officers "flip those flap-jacks" and "strum those guitars." As a result of this successful project and many others, the station returned to its original status as operational center for the distribution of education.

Physical and chemical elements united in rare combination to provide the audience of the Sophomore Show with an evening of star-studded entertainment. Under the capable direction of Jack Lyman and Therese Doherty, the talent and artistry of the Class of 1964 transformed the stage into Broadway at its finest. Kathy Linscott and Pat Protz also demonstrated their musical talents in developing this profitable endeavor with their choral arrangements.

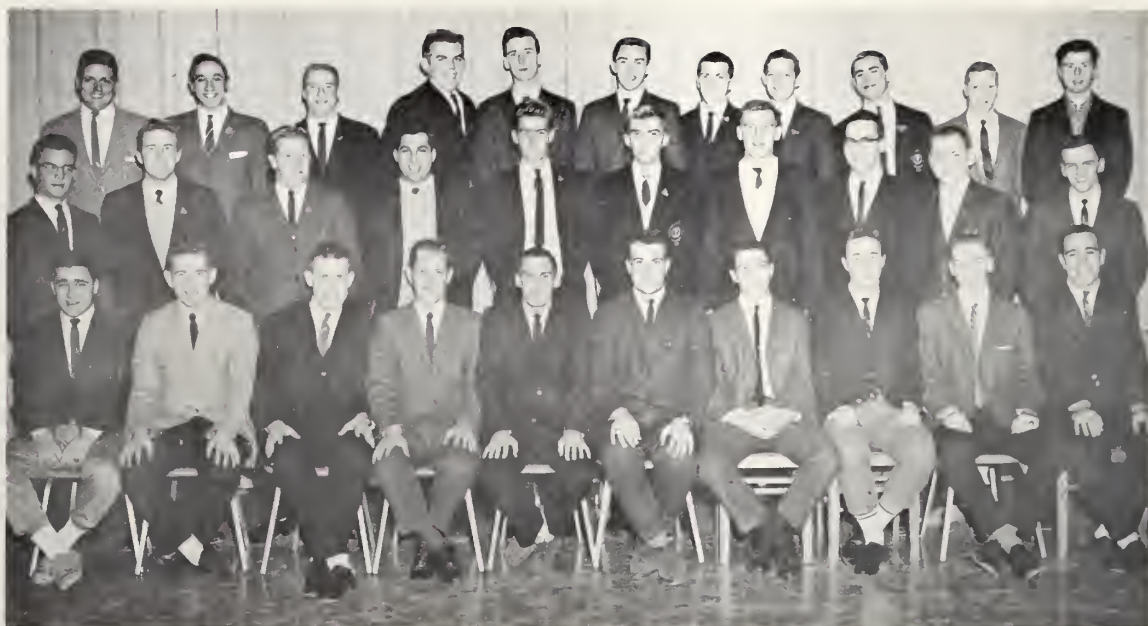

A new fraternity was formally organized, open to all male members of home base operations. The resultant competition between Beta Chi and the already established Kappa Delta Phi fraternity has always proved to be a source of excitement and entertainment to all members of the Proving Grounds. Who will ever forget Forest River Park, the scene of Bed Races, Football Games, and other diversified activities?

Another hiatus in the rigorous training procedures was provided by the Women's Athletic Association. One needed neither extra sensory perception nor electronic equipment to take note of this festive occasion whose beauty was further enhanced by Sandra Pecevich and Jeanne McCarthy.

Secondary Projection Powers of the sophomore year were the resumption of Hockey and beginning the tradition of Homecoming.
Second Stage released — A.O.K.

Third Stage

As each year passed, many of the traditional functions continued to take place at the Proving Grounds. Each assumed a new and fuller meaning as we climbed higher and higher toward the summit—graduation.

Dimmed lights and flowing music transformed our gymnasium into a party setting as young ladies and gentlemen danced to the music provided by the S.S.C. Council. Junior Class member, Joanne Bishara, reigned supreme in all her majesty as queen of the event, regally supported by lovely Dorothy Horton of the court.

Campaign posters, promises, and personalities covered the Proving Grounds as elections became the predominant factor for a two-week period. Smiles, congratulations, and merriment filled the area when the announcement of our new officers was made:

Orbital Engineer: Al DiVirgilio
Gravity Computer: Reggie St. Paul
Space Payloader: Nick Panagoplos
Decoder: Therese Doherty

Many of the members of our class became unofficial junior space payloaders as they contributed from their personal funds to endorse our candidate, Donna Della Colli, as Homecoming Queen.

The scene shifted from our Proving Grounds to North Conway for an excursion to a Winter Wonderland sponsored by the W.A.A. Approximately 80 girls schussed, slalomed, and occasionally tumbled over the slopes of Cranmore and Black Mountains. The inn was filled with an unsurpassed spirit of gaiety and joviality throughout the duration of this weekend, long to be remembered.

Soon after the ski trip had faded into our past, the W.A.A. sponsored yet another memorable event, its Formal. Sandra Pecevich and Donna Spakas, our representative beauties, made our entire class proud of them.

With the energy of a turbo-generator, the Junior Class plunged into the making of plans for our Junior Week. And what a week it was, filled with the magic of this, our latest launching.

Crane's Beach, scene of the clambake, became our Auroral Zone, and even the heavy rain could not dampen our spirits. Will we ever forget those immortal words uttered by one of our classmates, "Have a corn of ear?" and "You dipped your clam in what?"

Out of the rain at the clambake, we plunged into the water of the Route 95 Motor Inn swimming pool. The antics of the Juniors were enough to keep any radar system on the alert as they propelled themselves in and out of the rectangular pool. Later besieged by newspaper reporters and movie directors, Al McCoy and Tony Circo were asked if they cared to join a famous underwater ballet team. but alas, they refused, for all practice sessions were to be held in the Red Sea.

The culmination of this trajectory path was our Junior Prom. The beautiful Junior maidens softly glided through the General Glover Ballroom. Beth Tammany reigned as our lovely, rose-laden queen. Annette Minicello, Joanne Bishara, Helen Hennessey, and Beth Luz lended their regal support to the Queen to complete this picture of loveliness and enchantment.

In preparation for the forthcoming year, elections were held for both class and CLIPPER officers. Wayne Vose and Jim Anderson accepted the positions of President and Vice President respectively. Judy Heyward became treasurer, Marianne Doucette, assistant treasurer-secretary and Joan Dellacasa, secretary.

The laborious editorship of the CLIPPER was undertaken by Gail Fraser, Editor-in-chief, and Linda Bowes, Assistant Editor. With pen in hand, Rose Levy, our Literary Editor, displayed her talents. The theory of speed of light became more generally accepted as Art Cloutman and Nancy Ball proceeded to flash those bulbs in the photography department.

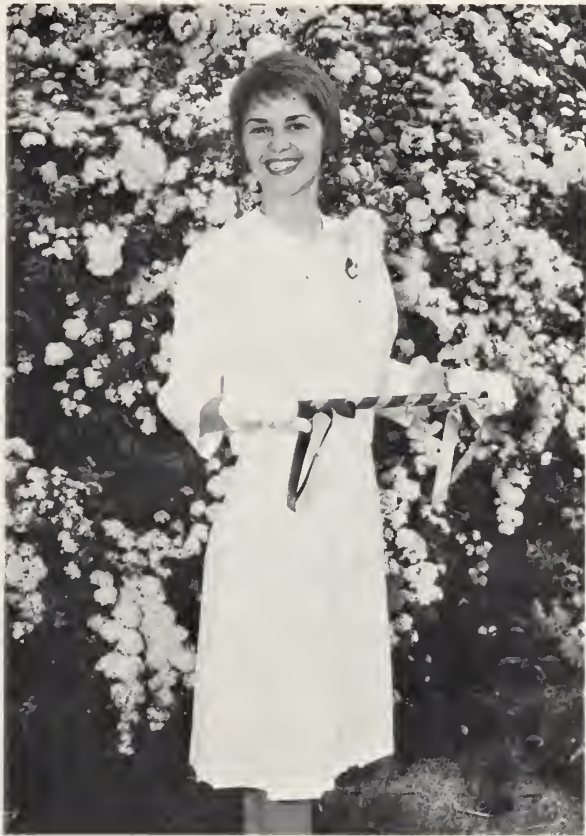

No undertaking can be successful without proper advertising. With this fact in mind, the members of our class gave full support to Candy Lambing and Janice Donabedian as Advertising Editors. Wisdom comes with age, and so our class validated this proverb by electing Sandy Beherell, Secretary; Sandy Belleau, Art Editor; and Jean Principato, Business Manager.

Third Staged complete — contact with reconnaissance plans being made.

Fourth and final stage.

Synonymous with Project Progredi is expansion, both educationally and physically. Our return to the Proving Grounds in the Fall of 1963 witnessed construction crews readying our new facilities. Thus the meaning of our motto Progredi became a reality. The greatest enrollment ever realized could well be seen in the crowded lounges and cafeteria. Rocketry was not only prevalent on the outside but also on the inside, as crew members landed in any available seats. With this increased enrollment, an increase in the professional staff became a must.

Our first social event of the year took the form of the CLIPPER Launching by means of which we hoped to and did realize a monetary surplus.

Clipper Dance

Our futures looked sunny indeed, yet such optimism was to be temporarily short-lived. On November 22, 1963, news reached our home base that our beloved Commander-in-Chief, John Fitzgerald Kennedy, had succumbed to the bullet of an assassin. The initial shock was visible not only at our own Proving Grounds but also throughout the world. Our only consolation lies in the fact that his soul would live on in our hearts and our minds and that our lives had been enriched for having lived in his time.

The college show was cancelled because of Mr. Kennedy's untimely death, but the Council Semi-Formal took place as tradition continued. Mary Lou Kelley more than ably represented our class in the Queen's Court.

January 6 marked a milestone in the history of our Proving Grounds for three parking lots were made available to the commuting crew members. These long awaited space-savers ended the perplexing problem of where to park and how to avoid parking tickets with a minimum of effort and frustration.

The auditorium echoed with the sound of shuffling feet and hushed whispers as the entire body of our Proving Grounds gathered to bid farewell to our capable President, Dr. Meier, who would soon be departing to Arizona on a sabbatical. President Meier has symbolized to our class, and will symbolize to those who follow, a beacon of light shining in friendship, warmth, sincerity, and dedication. For his efforts in our behalf, we shall always be grateful.

Our four years at the S.S.C. Proving Grounds will soon be at an end. We have much to cherish in memories that will be ours and ours alone. We have yet to participate in the Senior Show, Senior Week, Commencement, and other activities which will weave themselves into this ever-growing web of life. Part of our lives has been molded in these four years; it is we, as individuals, who must continue to broaden ourselves educationally, and spiritually. We have set our goals and our careers are about to be launched — whether or not we succeed in our orbital paths lies in the future.

SNEA Regional Confab Hosted by Boston Univ.

The New England 6th Regional SNEA Conference was held October 11, 12, and 13, at Boston University's Camp Sargent in Peterborough, New Hampshire. Carol Barbuto represented Salem's Student NEA chapter. She returned with many ideas from a very active weekend.

Friday evening, after registration and supper, Edwin Myers, the S.E.A. National President, addressed the assembly. The new president is a psychology major at Ursinus College, Pennsylvania. Mr. Myers' topic was Social Responsibility in a Free Society.

Mr. Robbins Barstow, SNEA Consultant in Connecticut, delivered the keynote address Saturday morning. The major problem presented in Mr. Barstow's address, Unionism vs. Professional Organizations was whether to join the NEA or the American Federation of Teachers. The important factor in the decision is what teaching means to you — a profession or a job. Discussion groups followed, so that the ideas and questions of the students could be expressed.

A very dynamic part of the morning's activities included a "Talk Around," conducted by Miss Lucy Valero, the SNEA Consultant for Pennsylvania. This discussion method encouraged active participation by everyone. Miss Valero offered three different topics for discussion:

1) What do you view as your responsibility to the profession you've chosen? 2) The strength of SNEA depends on the type of programs what have been some of your strong programs? 3) If I had my way, what would I want in SNEA? As each topic was given, three minutes were allowed to discuss it. When the discussion period ended, the recorder of each group summarized the most important ideas raised by his group.

Good Teacher?

The afternoon program included a talk by Mr. Paul Quimby, a previous member of the New Hampshire Board of Education, who now teaches at Concord High School. Mr. Quimby spoke on "The Measures of A Good Teacher." Following this talk and some discussion, the pilot film of "Mr. Novak" was shown. This film, "First Year, First Day" was one of the highlights of the weekend.

State Colleges Alumni Honor Harrington-Meier

Senator Kevin B. Harrington and Dr. Frederick A. Meier were honored at a luncheon following the business meeting of the Association of Massachusetts State Colleges Alumni, held at Salem State College on Saturday, October 19. Citations were presented to the honored guests in recognition of their efforts in the field of legislation in behalf of the Massachusetts State Colleges by Attorney Ann W. Lake, President of the association.

It was with good reason that the Association of Massachusetts State Colleges Alumni selected Salem State as the place for its annual meeting, for it chose that occasion to honor two of Salem's first citizens, Senator Kevin B. Harrington, who represents the Second Essex District and is Chairman of the Education Study Commission, and Dr. Frederick A. Meier, our own president and a legislative advisor. The citations honoring Sen. Harrington and Dr. Meier were bestowed in recognition of their unceasing efforts in the field of legislation to benefit the state colleges, and especially for their work on the Fiscal Autonomy Bill, which was signed by the Governor on August 12, 1963. This bill gives the state colleges the authority to use their funds as they see fit. This is a tremendous step forward for the colleges. It gives them the same fiscal authority as that previously granted to the University of Massachusetts.

Senator Harrington received the first plaque, which was presented to him by Attorney Ann W. Lake of Dedham, president of AMSCA. She very graciously praised the senator for all his work on the bill and for his efforts in behalf of the state colleges in general.

Senator Harrington, in turn gave much credit for the success of the bill to the members and officers of AMSCA. "Ann Lake," he said, "did so much that she practically lived on the Hill." He said that the state colleges are finally getting recognition both from their own state and from the other New England states. He sees a bright future ahead for them.

Then Ann Lake presented to Dr. Meier his plaque with warm, sincere words which reflected the esteem that all the members of AMSCA hold for him. She called him "The Ambassador of the State Colleges," and conferred upon him the title of "Father of the Fiscal Autonomy Bill." In recognition of her patience and perseverance while the bill was pending, Mrs. Meier was named "Mother of Fiscal Autonomy."

The ceremony closed with a verbal citation to Ann Lake in the form of a poem composed by Mrs. Elizabeth Wade.

S.S.C. Spotlight: Carl J. Martini Math Dept. Envoy

Mr. Carl J. Martini, Chairman of the Math Department at S.S.C., spoke October 8 to the Greater Boston Principals' Association on the implementation of a modern mathematics program in the elementary schools. Mr. Martini was in a program together with the newly appointed superintendent of schools for Boston, Mr. William Greenburg and the deputy superintendent, Marguerite Sullivan.

Mr. Martini has also spoke to several parent groups including Towser School of Marblehead.

The Mathematics department is preparing plans for regional County Math Fairs which will funnel finalists to the Statewide Math Fair to be held at S.S.C. on March 21, 1964.

N.A.A.C.P. Representative Addresses S.S.C. Student Body

Edward J. Cunha, editor of Log, and Arnold Gabrielson, Council President, chat with Mr. Daniel Richardson, secretary of the N.A.A.C.P.'s Boston Chapter.

On Tuesday last, Daniel Richardson, secretary of the N.A.A.C.P.'s Boston chapter, addressed the student body on the problem of white support for Negro Civil Liberties. Mr. Richardson stated that denying human rights to any segment of society menaces the freedom of the whole society. As one of the root issues of the "problem" he cited economic inequalities. To illustrate his point Mr. Richardson said, "The Negro's desires are the same as the white's — two cars, a summer home and all the blessings of our affluent society."

A question period followed his brief lecture. Several queries related to the alleged "de facto" segregation in Boston schools. Regarding the vote getting power of Mrs. Louise Day Hicks, School Committee Chairman in Boston, Mr. Richardson expressed confidence that her triumph in the primaries would not be repeated on final election day. When asked why there was a predominate number of whites participating in the picket lines and demonstrations he replied, "Freedom belongs to everyone."

Join Now

In closing Mr. Richardson invited students to demonstrate their passive principles by active membership in the N.A.A.C.P., by purchasing equality pins, and by forming a college chapter of the Civil Liberties Union.

Four Hundred Strong Prospective Frosh Tour Salem State

"The adolescent!!!" "Is this what we might teach?" "Huh?" These were some of the remarks which filtered through the lounges, cafeteria and corridors of Salem State last Wednesday as the Public Relations committee played host to four hundred Juniors and Seniors from local and distant high schools. Young girls donned their sweaters and letters and the future male collegians dug out their fathers' old pipes and vests, combed their hair across their foreheads and marched en masse to the hallowed walls of Alma Mater.

From "A" to "Z"

A coffee hour was held in the cafeteria prior to speeches given by the heads of the departments. A guided tour of the physical plant was given to groups of the students who were shown everything from the bulletin boards to the auditorium in the training school. A luncheon was served following the tour.

Miss Jeanne Principato was chairman of the affair which was sponsored by the Student Council. She was assisted by members of the Public Relations committee and volunteers from the student body who participated as guides and "waitresses." The Open House activities were completed shortly after two o'clock and the visitors went home to hide their pipes deep in the desk and to return their borrowed "college clothes," until the first day of school next year, after which day, they will dispose of them to save for their children.
