PRESIDENT'S REPORT

The work of the association has been carried on in a quiet, effective way during the year—the settlement undoubtedly being appreciated by the neighborhood more and more as time goes on.

The directors have met regularly for the transaction of routine business, and committees from the board have given real service in carrying out work assigned them. The efforts of the Committee on the concert for the benefit of the Polish war sufferers netted about $500. and gave the people of Salem an opportunity to hear Mme. Szumowska in a choice program of piano music.

The membership committee has been especially active and successful in increasing our membership by one hundred and seventy-two. We gladly welcome these new members to an opportunity to assist in a most worthy and necessary undertaking.

The association acknowledges the courtesy of The Salem Evening News in the publicity given our activities at all times and also the Y. M. C. A. for the generosity in loaning us Ames Memorial Hall at the time of the Relief concert. We are as usual indebted to the founder of the settlement, Miss Caroline O. Emmerton, for continued financial assistance and for a greatly improved plant. The details of the work of the House will be given in the report of the head-worker, Miss Dunham, who has given us a year of conscientious and intelligent service, resulting in a very successful year for the institution.

Respectfully submitted,

RUFUS D. ADAMS, President.

REPORT OF THE HEAD WORKER

A report of a social movement commonly spoken of as a settlement must—because of the very nature of it—be superficial. A settlement is, briefly expressed, a home composed of homes and located among homes. Like its prototype it is a place of intimate relationships and in the largest definition, a birthplace of loftiest ideals and aspirations. Unlike it, its organization is artificial and its life perpetuated mechanically. The events and activities which take place in it compose its mechanism and are the evidences of its existence and human fellowship.

Family

The family living in the House of Seven Gables consists of eleven resident workers, eight of them on full time, three part time. This family is increased to the number of fifteen during a part of the year to provide for the exhibition of the house to visitors.

Nationality of Settlement

Nine nationalities are represented in our settlement—Polish, Irish-American, Russian, French, Italian, Austrian, Swedish, Syrian and English, the first three predominating and being about evenly divided.

Hospitality

We believe in the value of human association and in the power of environment and example to stimulate ideals of character and behavior. To this end the young women and men in the settlement in groups of two have been invited to dine with the Gables Family, weekly. The groups have been kept small for the purpose of informality and larger opportunity for mutual acquaintance. Larger groups have also been shown through the house, this pleasure having been contingent upon the knowledge of the history of the house and the story associated with it. In this way all of the young people, either individually or in clubs, have been given a new interest in the House and its residents. Once each month the mothers of the kindergarten children have been entertained at the Hathaway house. The entertainment on these occasions has been varied. In some cases it has consisted of music furnished by the kindergartner and her assistants. In others, a lecture, or playing of games. Always a social hour with the serving of light refreshments. The majority of these mothers are non-English speaking women and their successful attempt to teach the workers and English-speaking mothers to play a Polish game has been one of the strongest proofs of the value of these meetings.

Reciprocal Relations

No force is more potent than that of human relationships and neighborly hospitality is of great importance. Friendly intercourse cannot be said to prevail, however, if there is no exchange of courtesies. Every resident worker in the house has made the acquaintance of the family of each member of her club or class. Frequent visits to the homes have been made. Church holidays have been observed with them and invitations to break bread with them have been cordially accepted. Many of the children who come to the settlement are in need of physical attention. In addition to the visits which are specifically friendly visits, special visits for the investigation of these cases have been made by one of the resident workers who has been trained for this particular kind of visiting. Through the evidence of interest and friendliness which this visit offers, we have been able to secure the proper treatment for various forms of physical defect.

Christmas

Five Christmas parties were given at the Bethel. One afternoon before Christmas, a group of children, accompanied by a teacher, delivered thirty-eight Christmas stockings which they had made and filled with toys and candy, each donor of the gift having contributed the money to pay for the materials. The recipients of these gifts were entirely unknown to the children who gave them. Gifts of home-made candy and calendars were taken to the almshouse. Each member received a personally addressed gift—ninety in all. These gifts were the work of a corresponding number of children in the settlement. The candy was made by the girls, daintily arranged in a Christmas package, the calendars made by the boys, to which were tied Christmas tags. All the week rehearsals of Christmas carols were held and on Wednesday a group of eighteen singers composed of Polish, Irish and Jewish members of the settlement serenaded the pastors of their respective churches, the Bertram Home for Aged Men, and the Old Ladies' Home.

Kindergarten

The settlement has no quicker or surer method of approach and entrance into the home than through the little child. We established our kindergarten last October with an enrollment of thirty-eight, which in a few weeks was increased to fifty-two. At the present time we have fifty-eight. We have taken into our kindergarten only those who lived at too great a distance from the kindergarten connected with the public school system to attend it. Our school is in session daily with the exception of Saturday. It is in charge of Miss Margaret Wilson, a graduate of the Wheelock school, Brookline, Mass. We have as assistants, a group of two juniors and one senior, the personnel of this group changing every three months.

Industrial Classes

One of the obligations to our neighbors which we try to fulfill is to provide the industrial training which children more fortunately circumstanced may have at home or be provided with by their parents. We have held thirty-two classes weekly, in house keeping, sewing, dress making, millinery, embroidery, basketry, and sloyd. These classes are partly self-supporting. The pupils of the cooking classes are individually assessed for the materials used. The members of the dressmaking and millinery classes bring their own materials and the finished products of the sewing, sloyd and basketry are sold to the pupils at cost.

English Class

Only one class in English for adult immigrants has been held. This has been in session twice weekly. Special effort has been made to interest the women immigrants in these classes. In order to overcome the natural diffidence of some and the apathy of others, teachers have been sent to the homes. These teachers have made two visits weekly, and in some instances have been able to bring their pupils to the House for the general class.

Dancing and Gymnasium

One of the problems of our settlement has been to prevent our young women and men from seeking their recreations and sports in questionable localities. We have succeeded in making our dance hall and gymnasium as attractive to them as any in the city. We cannot yet compete with the "movies", but it is not impossible that we may successfully do so. There have been numerous requests for instruction in dancing, and we have been able to arrange for four weekly classes. Three classes in gymnastic work—two for boys and one for girls—have also been in session weekly.

Playground

Our playground has been in almost constant use during the entire year under supervision. Groups of girls and boys using it alternately. Many groups have also made "hikes" to neighboring towns and numerous "trails" have been followed to the Willows. The kindergarten children have been taken to the common and on other short walks outside the immediate vicinity.

Clubs

The organization of groups of individuals into self-governing bodies is a very important feature of settlement life. We have four girls', five boys', one women's and one men's club. Each club has its own constitution, elects its own officers and conducts its meetings according to parliamentary law. Each club is a miniature democracy. All share alike in its support and its responsibilities. The lessons in law and order and respect for majority rule are of incalculable value. While these clubs vary in their particular occupations—some being interested in dramatic work, story telling or domestic arts—they are primarily social clubs. They are encouraged to support a recreative spirit and to entertain others. One—the Amateur Dramatic Club—has enjoyed the distinction of giving a play in a neighboring town for which they were paid $5. This amount, after having deducted less than $1 for travelling expenses, they were proud to donate to the settlement. Early in the year the Gables

Mothers' Club realized that our equipment for interesting and holding the young people was inadequate. With generous zeal they applied themselves to the task of raising $25, to be applied to the expense of laying a floor suitable for dancing in the Bethel. The Men's club occupies an important position in the community life. Its opportunities for usefulness in its own environment are great and in the larger field of civics its possibilities are numerous. It is a matter of congratulation that this club has had a vision of the brotherhood of man. In the welcoming to their fellowship the men of other races than their own they have proven their desire to materialize that vision. This club has also generously contributed about $14 to the settlement.

The Harbor View Club, composed of boys between the ages of seventeen and twenty, have presented the House with $2, to be used for victrola records. No feeling is more difficult to arouse in a settlement group than that of neighborhood consciousness. It is a pleasure to record these instances of it.

Camp Fire Girls

Last year the initial steps towards the organization of the girls into a Camp Fire were taken. A charter was obtained and nine girls of an average age of fifteen years were taken on probation. This necessitated an expenditure of $5, which appears to have been justified, as they have all filled the six requirements necessary to attain the first rank, which is that of Wood Gatherer. These girls show comprehension of the principles of the organization and have shown earnestness of purpose by furnishing the materials and making their own ceremonial gowns and headbands. Self-support is one of the laws of the Camp Fire, and it is much to the credit of these young women that in addition to the expense already mentioned, they have paid their own annual fee of $5 to the National Board. Some of the purposes of the Camp Fire, as defined by its constitution, are to perpetuate the spiritual ideals of the home and community; to aid in the formation of habits making for health, vigor and happiness and to foster intimate relations between mother and daughter. The successful guardian of this Camp is Miss Elizabeth R. Farnham.

Boy Scouts

The problems of the adolescent girl and boy constitute practically the problems of humanity. Our streets are swarming with these young people and their conduct affects the prosperity, comfort and happiness of the nation. We feel that in the organization of a patrol of the Boy Scouts of America we have fortified ourselves in a measure against continued lawlessness. Our troop committee consists of the following named gentlemen:—Hon. Rufus D. Adams, Messrs. F. S. Benjamin and B. F. Nason, all of whom are sincerely interested in boys and in this movement and whose counsel cannot fail to be productive of good results. The officer in immediate charge of the boys is Mr. W. J. Olsson. As in the case of the Camp Fire Girls the necessary fee for registration at the National Headquarters was advanced. Opportunity for the boys to earn their uniforms has also been provided. Our patrol consists of eight boys of twelve and thirteen years of age. These boys have successfully passed the tests for the rank of Tenderfoot and are working now for the next rank which is that of Second-class Scout. To become a Scout a boy must have passed his twelfth birthday. We have several boys who soon will be eligible for membership. A patrol consists of eight boys—a troop, of three or more patrols. We predict that with a troop of Boy Scouts we shall be a stronger force for good in our community and country.

Entertainment

In addition to class-room instruction and the social life of the clubs many fine concerts and lectures have been given by professional performers and speakers—the Polish members having enjoyed several illustrated lectures given in their own language. Some attempt has been made to develop a love for the best in music and art. Weekly audiences during Lent listened to Victrola records of classical compositions accompanied by some account of the composer and its place in musical literature. The settlement has also the nucleus of an orchestra and we are fortunate in having the services of Mrs. Jessie Hatch Symonds as instructor and director.

Library

Our library has been opened for the distribution of books one day weekly. About one hundred and twenty children have made use of it. The majority of our readers are girls and boys under twelve years of age. Through the kindness of friends our library has been considerably increased, but we still have not enough volumes to supply the needs of this class of readers.

Juvenile Court

We have continued to co-operate with the Juvenile Court in giving the services of our resident boys' worker, Mr. W. J. Olson, as an officer of that court. The following statistics give an idea of that service and its relation to our settlement.

Number of boys on probation from Oct. 1, 1914 to May 1, 1915, 33.

Number of boys put on probation while settlement members, 5.

Number of boys brought to settlement through court acquaintance, 22.

Number of boys not belonging to settlement, 6.

May Festival (1914)

The annual May festival was held on May fifteenth and sixteenth, 1914, in Now and Then Hall. The evening entertainment was furnished by the Jewish Girls' Club and the Gables Mothers' Club. There was general dancing until twelve o'clock. Members of the Gables Mothers' club served ice cream. The afternoon program consisted of a Mother Goose Pageant given by the young children, assisted by a few of the older girls. Refreshments were served by the Gables Mothers' Club.

Camp

The camp on Cobbett's Lake, Windham, New Hampshire, which was used by the settlement last year was again rented, but on account of the calamitous fire in Salem in June the preparations for its occupancy were somewhat delayed. It was opened on July sixteenth, and closed September first. Three children of one of the burned-out families were cared for during the entire period.

Volunteers

It is a pleasure to record the faithful and efficient assistance given to the work of the settlement by the group of people called—in settlement parlance—volunteers. Without their help our achievements would have been greatly lessened. Large as this body of workers has been we need a much larger.

Conclusion

The House of Seven Gables settlement has arrived at the distinctive period of the half unit of settlement valuation. The completion of these five years of social service must be an occasion for honest self-congratulation to the directors and members of the association. That it was a necessity its reports prove and that it is still so, needs no other evidence than the increasing population of its neighborhood.

ELIZABETH H. DUNHAM, Head Worker.
